PLANET TOO

Planet Too is passionate about sustainability and our local community so it only made sense that we would also look to work with Northampton's landlords in achieving our ambitions of reducing our students' carbon footprint.

Student accommodation comes in all shapes and sizes. Northampton's landlords own many different types of properties and they house just as many different groups of students. That's why we went about creating the Planet Too Green House Awards, a simple, flexible framework that aids landlords in putting together an action plan for improvements to their property and rewards them for their effort.

These Green House Properties will be champions of safe, quality, environmentally-friendly student housing in Northampton, receiving the full support of the Planet Too Project and the University of Northampton Students' Union.

Look out for Green House properties with this logo.
